

Call for Event Proposals

Deadline: 7th November 2023

Pitch your event!

Migration Oxford is an initiative and network that brings together students, researchers, and academics working on migration and mobility from across the University of Oxford's research centres, divisions, and departments to foster interdisciplinary dialogue and collaborations.

Migration Oxford has space to host and support the organisation of an event of your choice during Hilary Term 2024 or Trinity Term 2024. This could take the form of a panel, a book launch, a workshop, a roundtable discussion, a networking event for migration scholars, a conference or whichever format you deem most appropriate.

Who can apply?

We encourage event proposals from researchers and students from any discipline, department, background, and career stage. At least one of the lead applicants must be affiliated with the University of Oxford.

What kind of events are we looking for?

We are particularly interested in events exploring migration, mobility, and displacement from an interdisciplinary perspective and which include speakers from different research centres and departments from the University of Oxford, though speakers from other universities are also welcome. We are also particularly keen to receive event proposals that include various voices, ranging from academics, students, and researchers to activists, artists, community leaders, policy makers, or individuals with lived experiences of migration or displacement.
